Exam Answers

Question 1: an exam

Question 2: entered are intended to carry out specific task but the process is a it's heavy weight and thread is a lightweight process the cat series the process like multiple processes cannot be executed simultaneously multiple Threads can be executed simultaneously via thread management parallelism

Question 3: virtual memory is a part of secondary memory we kind of project as main memory it is an extended main memory show the data which is most frequently accessed through the secondary memory is ke all of this is done mechanisms and paging algorithms where we keep page tables and pages in the virtual memory both of its referred like as data tables and data show the advantages of virtual memory would be frequently used data can be searched in the virtual memory and can be obtained quickly would be a bigger and obviously lead to

Question 4: and exam